THIS DAY'S DOINGS.

LECTURE.
Lecture by Rev. G. Wallace at Reading Room, at 7:30.
Excelsior Lodge, I.O.O.F. 7:30.
Bible Class at Lyceum, at 7:30.
Free Organ Recital at St. Andrew's Cathedral, 7:45.

THE CONCERT

Opened with a chorus, followed by two comic solos with refrains, in which the antics of the end men were particularly amusing. After this sentimental and comic solos were given alternately, sandwiched with the usual jokes. Owing, doubtless, to the well-known defective acoustic properties of the building the jokes fell flat occasionally, as they could not be heard. Those that could be heard were well appreciated, some of the local hits being especially good. The best liked in this part of the programme seemed to be "Gathering Shells," "Kuu Aloha," "I am coming, darling, coming," and "Come show me de way," the last bringing down the house in storms of applause and encores. The finale, "Scenes on Mahukona train," was an exceedingly effective tableau vivant. After a very short intermission the orchestra played an excellent overture, which was followed by a harmonica solo, well played by W. Aylett. L. Gusman then danced a fancy clog dance, equal to many professionals. J. Fisher again appeared, to convince the audience with his comic appearance, while singing a national song. Then followed a banjo solo from T. S. Kalama, which was excellently rendered in true Ethiopian style. Next came the double quartette, singing of Hawaiian songs, which were pleasantly produced, and then a song and dance by L. Gusman, which was warmly applauded. Then a negro burlesque, which produced shouts of laughter at the comic postures and movements, but of the dialogue of which not a word could be heard, owing to the noise upstairs. We must say here that the police did their best to stop the noise and ultimately succeeded. Next A. Keumi performed some startling feats on the single trapeze; and a plantation scene, "The return of Uncle Joe," introducing some very good singing and step dancing, followed by the unrolling of the royal flag and the singing of "Hawaii Pono!" by the troupe, brought the lengthy programme to a close. The house was full, and all were well satisfied with the entertainment, pronouncing it to be the best yet given by the troupe. We hope, however, to see them surpass even this splendid effort.

CIVIL CALENDAR.

G. F. Holmes vs. Joe Keihaha, re-remanded to 23rd.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The Malolo will take all freight for Kohala to-day at 3 p.m.

The Kilaua Hou and the Lehua both leave at 3 p.m. The mails by them will consequently be closed at 2:30 p.m.

The Waimanalo left at 10:30 a.m. yesterday for Waianae, to bring up the schooner Emma.

The Lilly Grace, Capt. Hughes, came in in ballast last night, 41 days from Iquique, Peru. She has been 2 days off port, and 10 days ago encountered a spell of southerly gales. Passed an iron bark 10 days ago, bound eastward in 145 N. She came from Liverpool with coals to Iquique, and is about 515 tons new measurement.

Yesterday afternoon express No 7 was smashed up out on Beretania street. The wheel came off, spring broke and other parts smashed. The driver received a severe shaking and several bad bruises.

LOCAL & GENERAL ITEMS.

The mail for San Francisco, per Eva, closes at 1 p.m. this day.

EMMA Square was crowded last night—the music was splendid.

PREPARATIONS for the Coronation are going on with vigor. From all quarters we hear of preparatory hulas being carried on.

AGAIN there are rumors of the formation of a new Cabinet. The two Hawaiian members are to be replaced by two foreigners, one of whom was formerly on the Bench.

It has been reported to us that the algaroba trees on the makai side of the road at Waikiki, from this side of the bridge to beyond the Park, are all withered and dead.

ON the invitation to the Coronation is placed the words, "Full dress." Is it Hawaiian or European full dress that is meant? Else why this preparation of foreign cloaks if not the former?

IN other countries, at a Coronation, the heralds precede the sovereign, crying, "Largesse, largesse!" and scattering money to the populace. Here, on the contrary, it is notified that the people are to distribute the largesse to the sovereign.

THE Police Magistrate is fining those who are brought up for drunkenness a second time $10. This is a good step as they will think a little about getting drunk when they have to pay $10 for their game.

THE delay of the Suez and Australia in coming in sight of these islands gives another proof of the necessity of cable communication between Honolulu and San Francisco. How a cablegram would allay the anxieties now openly expressed!

IT is rumored that there is a nice kettle of fish over the precedence of ladies at the Coronation. If a man is a widower, and has a daughter married, can she take rank as his wife and so precedence of other ladies than she would as the wife of her husband?

THERE is a rumor going round town that some of the Coronation invitations are missing, and the explanation given of it is certainly ingenious. The invitation were handed out to soldiers to distribute, and at the last up-going steamer they sold them to passengers as mementos of the occasion.

TO-NIGHT the Rev. Geo. Wallace will give a lecture on "A fine Art much neglected," in the hall of the Library and Reading Room Association. The proceeds are to be devoted to the purchase of new books for the Association. We trust that they will have a liberal response to this appeal.

YESTERDAY morning there was a runaway of a lumber wagon from Cooke's wharf. Another lumber wagon was backed into it and the horses took fright and ran off. All the lumber was spilled, but the horses were stopped near the foot of Nuuanu street by a native man with a shovel, with which he had been mixing mortar.

HERE is a question for those who are settling the arrangements of the Coronation. Are the invitation cards to be taken along by those who are going? And if so, how are they to be carried? If not, how are they going to distinguish between the invited and uninvited, and between those who are to sit in high places and those who are only going to the amphitheatre?

TO-NIGHT Mr. Wray Taylor will give another of his well-known free organ recitals at St. Andrew's Cathedral. For this occasion Mr. Taylor has secured the assistance of Miss Michiels, who will sing for the first time in public on this Island. Her brother will play a cornet obligato to one of her solos. Lovers of good singing and music should not fail to be present.

WEDDINGS have been quite frequent during the last two or three days. On Sunday and yesterday festivities were held in Maunaloa Valley at the residence of Mr. Perry, in honor of his daughter's wedding. Notwithstanding the distance and the bad roads an immense number of guests were present to do honor to the occasion and enjoy the proceedings. A bountiful provision was made for the refreshment of the guests, which was done ample justice to. Songs and dances enlivened the proceedings, and none departed without wishing long life and happiness to the newly married couple.

From our own Correspondent.

KOHALA NOTES.

We have had two Kona's, one last week and one the present, the wind blowing quite strong in gusts from the S.W., but unaccompanied with any great amount of rain. The surf was so heavy at Mahukona on Wednesday, that the Lehua landed her passengers with difficulty, and did not attempt to land any of Kohala freight until her return from Hilo on Friday morning. To-day (19th) the wind is back in the old N.E. quarter, light airs and decidedly warm weather.

ON the passage of the Lehua from Hilo, a Chinaman who had come on board sick bound for Honolulu, died before the steamer got to Mahukona. The Deputy-Sheriff of Kohala, who was on board, was called upon to empanel a Coroner's Jury, who after due deliberation returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from natural causes.

NORTH Kohala appears to be the banner district in the way of taxes. It is said that the amount collected will foot up $25,000, some four or five thousand more than any of the other districts.

IN the Police Court this week, a native was convicted of selling liquor without a license and fined $200; subsequently he was convicted of stealing the liquor (a case of brandy) from the Halaala R. R. station, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment at hard labor. Altogether a dear dozen of brandy—and a poor article, too.
